Car Thieves Apprehended At Archer City

An automobile, belonging to a local used car dealer, has been recovered by the City Police, according to Chief Jack Pike. The black and tan car, was found in Archer City Thursday. It had been repainted green. Two ex-convicts from Grayson County were apprehended, and had with loot which had been stolen there.

Sheriff Woody Blanton took the men back to Grayson county, but they will be transferred to McKinney where Chief Pike has filed charges of car theft against them.

Regular Weekly Session Held By City Commission

The regular weekly session of the City Commission was held Thursday afternoon at the City Hall, presided over by Mayor George W. Smith, with Mrs. Chester Douglas, city secretary, recording the minutes. City Attorney Horace Neilson opened the meeting with prayer.

Commissioners Sterling Bailey and Bennie Love, were present, as were several other guests during the course of the session.

The Mayor reported one of the city wells had recently been cleaned out at a cost of $2,262.28 and that in the future all four of these city wells will be pumped one hour each day to prevent deterioration. After the city began using water from Lake Lavon two of the City wells "went bad," filling with silt. They were dug at a cost of some $75,000 to $150,000, and in order to keep them in good order as "stand bys" in case there is ever a shortage from the lake water we are now using, will be pumped daily.

It was also brought up that in the future delinquent water bills must be paid by the 16th of the month or the user will be "cut off."

A discussion between the Commission and representatives from a local business concern, was the final business of the afternoon. The discussion grew out of an odorous condition in Southeast McKinney, in the vicinity of the City Sewage Disposal plant. Cause of the condition was traced and is expected to be corrected within the next few days.

Band Boosters In Drive For New Members

The Band Boosters are far short of the goal of 1,000 members which they expect to get during the current membership drive. Billy Gray, president and Ralph Martin, campaign chairman, are anxious to enlist not only parents of band students, but every citizen in McKinney in this organization.

The school bands are an asset to the Community, as well as to the school, in providing entertainment at many of the public events here. Parades, fairs, picnics, political rallies, and numerous other gatherings always find McKinney's uniformed school bands as a center of interest. Supporting the Band Boosters by joining the club, at only $1 membership fee, you are encouraging the boys and girls who participate in this program of music. George McCoy is the director of the High School group while Frank Todd leads the Junior High students.

The drive got off to a fairly good start last Friday night, but is still some 600 members shy the set quota.

The proceeds from this fund campaign wil l help pay for uniforms, and other necessary equipment. You will find your membership fee into this organization is "a dollar well spent." This is just another opportunity to do something for the boys and girls of McKinney.

1,355 Studeuts Get Hot Meals Daily

By H. D. MOUZON

To the average housewife and mother the very thought of being faced with the necessity of preparing and serving more than 1300 meals each day is enough to send her scurrying to the aspirin bottle bupt for the seven cafeteria managers in the McKinney school system, and their capable assistants, the job is just routine. That's what they do every day, 175 days out of the year, for lunch when they come face to face with the job of feeding 1,335 hungry youngsters. That's the average number of luncheon served each day during the school year and it's a staggering total. Yearly total is 233,706 lunches served.

It's big business, this thing of operating McKinney's school cafeterias. There's hardly a restaurant owner anywhere who wouldn't be most happy to have a guarantee of that number of cash customers each and every day.

The milk business alone done in these cafeterias during the school year taxes the imagination. Business Manager Earl Slaughter's records reveal that, last school year, McKinney children consumed 358,392 half pints of milk for an average of 2,047 half pints per day. That's a lot of milk in any business and includes that which was purchased by children at lunch time and extra milk served during milk breaks during the mornings at elementary schools. School officials recoginze the value of a few minutes of relaxation and of light refreshment and have provided this time for the children when they may go into the cafeteria and enjoy their morning glass of milk.

Here are some statistics relative to local school cafeterias which should be of interest to patrons.

The seven lunch rooms each served an average of 191 meals per day during the 1956-57 school year.

By schools, the figures are as follows:

Boyd High sedved a total of 34,604 meals for an average of 198 per day.

West Ward Elementary School served 55,819 to average 319 per day.

J. L. Greer—39,828 lunches or an average of 227.

J. W. Webb — 27,768 lunches for an average of 159.

Fanny Finch School — 40,175 to average 230 per day.

Central Ward — 26,328 meals for an average of 150.

Doty School — 9,184 for an average of 52 lunches per day.

The gross income received by the school system from cafterias totaled $75,336.48 during the past year. That's an average of $430.49 for each day.

The afore mentioned totals become even more staggering when one realizes that school meals are served at greatly reduced prices—35c each in high school and only 25c each in elementary schools. These low prices for a well-balanced meal consisting of meat, vegetables, desert and drink are made possible because of the assistance received through the school lunch program of the Texas Education Agency at Austin which organization reimburses the individual school at the rate of 5c each on Type A lunches with milk and 3c each on the same lunch served without milk. Children may purchase additional milk to drink at the rate of only 2c per half pint.

In addition, government surplus commodities are supplied to schools through the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Whatever food has been declared as surplus by the department and is available is distributed by the Commodity Distributing Division of the Texas Department of Public Welfare. Local schools work with County Supt. W. H. Moseley's office in this part of the program. McKinney surplus supplies reach here from a warehouse at Paris.

A daily record of income and number of lunches served is kept by each cafeteria manager who, in turn, reports to her principal. The principal then reports to Bus. Manager Slaughter.

Local school lunchrooms reported a gross income of $75,336.48 last school year with total disbursements of $72,513.66. Any profits are used to purchase new or additional equipment for the cafeterias where, as a matter of fact, already more than the slightly more than $2,000 profit of last year has been invested in new equipment.

Back to statistics for one final item. Of the total number of lunches served last school year, 10,372 were served to adults, most of these being to teachers.

In adidtion, 13,113 lunches were served free to children whose parents were not financially able to pay for them.

Each cafeteria manager orders supplies for her individual school. Meals are planned jointly by the seven managers.

The McKinney schools list 22 cafeteria employees.

Cafteria managers are as follows:

High School, Mrs. Bennie Sanders; Fanny Finch School, Mrs. Virgie Langley; J. L. Greer, Mrs. Sue Dunn; Central Ward, Mrs. Velma M. Jones; J. W. Webb, Mrs. Catherine Mallow; West Ward, Mrs. Mittie Holmes, and Doty School, Mrs. Lydia McCowan.

Sub-Division Election Set By Soil Board

The sub-division No. 4 election time and place was set by the Collin Soil Conservation District board of supervisors in their regular meetting at McKinney. "It is to be held in the Farmersville Post Office at 7:30 p. m. October 1," stated John Wells of Plano, Chairman of the Board.

The election will be held for that area of the District east of Highway 78 and the Bell's Highway. It is the area now being served by supervisor George Webb of Nevada.

The Board was informed by Morrison W. Liston, Work Unit Conservationist of Soil Conservation Service, that bids were in the process of being accepted and construction is expected to start soon on flood prevention structure Sites 3C, 3D and 5A of Wilson Creek southwest of McKinney.

Liston also reported recent changes in Soil Conservation Service personnel assignments in the District. These included J. M. Norton, formerly Work Unit Conservationist at McKinney who is transferring to flood prevention construction work at McKinney; Liston, formerly Work Unit Conservationist at Farmersville is transferring to the same position at the McKinney unit, and Ray McLaughlin transferring from Conservation Planner to Work Unit Conservationist at Farmersville.

The Board sent a letter to the state Board of Water Engineers at Austion sanctioning the use of flood prevention structure water for irrigation on the C. H. Ray and F. D. Perkins farms. Construction is nearing completion on this structure.

A form was adopted for use by cooperating farmers in connection with the minor maintenance jobs involving floodwater detention structures.

A form was adopted for use by cooperating farmers in connection with the minor maintenance jobs involving floodwater detention structures. All major repair has been completed since the spring rains except establishment of vegetative cover and this will start soon.

John Wells stressed the need for a drive to get an increase in fall planted legumes for land protection. He especially pointed out the need for land treatment of all kinds necessarry on watersheds above flood prevention structures.

Seven new farms were made cooperators with the District, adding 502 acres of land being served. Five of these were in the Farmersville work unit area and two were at McKinney.

Pope Station Burglarized Twice This Week

Pope Service Station on Highway 75, North, was burglarized Thursday night for the second time this week. Some $25 was taken from the vending machines in the building. The cigaret machine was reported as badly damaged. Deputy Jim Standerfer, who with Deputy Robert Ramsey made the investigation, states entrance was gained into the building through a window.

The deputies report $25 in cash stolen from the Acuff Grocery at Murphy Wednesday night. The front door of the building had been broken open for the burglars to gain entrance.

Other activities of the Sheriff's office were reported as routine.

Truck Wrecks North And South Of Here Friday Afternoon

A truckload of cattle, belonging to Sheeny Hamm, North of McKinney, overturned Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock on Highway 75, North. Mr. Hamm was reported to be driving the truck when it overturned as he was leaving the highway onto Chambersville road. None of the animals were hurt and Mr. Hamm also escaped injury.

About the same time another accident occurred near the underpass South of McKinney when steering apparatus of a truck went out of commission, causing the vehicle to hit a ditch. No one injured.

Deputies from the Sheriff's office made the investigations.

Jerry Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Williamson, is attending SMU in Dallas this year.

Highway Employee Is Honored Here

A group of 80 persons or more gathered at the Highway maintenance offices on South Tennessee Street Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to pay honor to Charles E. Miller of Allen. At this time Miller was awarded the Certificate of Merit, highest honor bestowed by the American National Red Cross for his rescue of a fellow employe of the Texas Highway Department on May 24 this year.

Only 106 such awards have been bestowed in Texas since life saving was established by the Red Cross in 1913.

The "surprise party" was planned by fellow workers of Miller, members of the local Red Cross chapter and other friends, who gathered at the highway offices prior to Miller's return from his day's work.

O. L. Stewart, maintenance foreman for the department, was master of ceremonies, welcoming the guests. Among those present were Miss Bonnie McAfee, Red Cross field representative for a 22-county area in North Texas area; Burman Black, senior safety instructor for the Highway department, from Austin; Grover Green, district maintenance engineer and W. B. Purcell, general foreman, both of Dallas; John R. Taylor, senior resident engineer, Judge W. E. Button, and presidents or officers in local civic and service clubs.

Mr. Stewart turned the program over to Mrs. Robert E. Williams, executive director of the local Red Cross Chapter, who briefly reviewed the work of the American Red Cross throughout the nation, bringing her report to the Collin County Chapter and its history. She then told the story of how Charles E. Miller had saved the life of Everett T. Cunningham, with whom he was working.

On May 24, Miller and Everett T. Cunningham had been assigned to haul rock from South of McKinney to a repair job on U.S. Highway 75, North of McKinney. The men had hauled a load of rock to the spot where repairs were being made on the banks of Honey Creek. Due to excessive rains the creek was carrying water to a depth of about 8 feet. Cunningham, driver, had backed the truck into position for releasing rock. As the dump bed of the truck lifted, it locked causing the truck to turn over backward into the creek.

Miller dived into the water and rescued the stunned driver from the completely submerged cab of the truck. Although the driver strangled, he caught his breath but, he was bleeding profusely from a serious wound on his right arm. Miller improvised a tourniquet from a handkerchief and used direct pressure on the wound with a compress made of another handkerchief.

Later, at the hospital in McKinney, Dr. Glenn Mitchell, attending physician, said the work of the individual that pulled the driver from the cab of his truck and who stopped the flow of blood, is certainly commendable and could have saved the life of the injured.

Miller's award, the 664th in the 16-state Midwestern Red Cross Area in 44 years, was recommended by the Collin County Red Cross Chapter. The Red Cross National Awards Committee at Washington, D. C., approved the award after considering eyewitnesses', physicians' and hospitals' statements on the merit of the life-saving action.

To qualify for a Certificate of Merit, a person must have been trained in Red Cross First Aid or water safety, and must have used this training in "saving or attempting to save the life of another in an act adjudged meritorious."

The certificate, which had been neatly framed, was presented to Miller by Cunningham, as a climax to a most impressive program.

An informal social period followed and was enjoyed by those present with several ladies serving refreshments of cold drinks and assorted cookies.

An improvised stage had been arranged, with a background of flowers, and standards holding the U.S. States and Red Cross flags. Baskets of pink gladioli and other blossoms were used on either side.

The party was "kept secret" throughout the week, and Miller's wife and daughters, Misses Sandra and Nelda Miller, were not notified until Monday. Several friends from Allen were included in the list of persons who registered.

Banks To Receive Donations For Memorial Tank

Several have called wanting to know where to turn in the money for the memorial army tank, which is to be placed in the park in McKinney. Donations will be taken by any bank in the county and by all newspapers as well.

James C. Stewart, jr., of the Central National Bank in McKinney is treasurer of the association, and donations may be made direct to him, as he will handle all the funds eventually. It is hoped that the tank can be on its foundation in the park by Armistice Day, at which time a fitting ceremony is planned. The tank, which will last hundreds of years, is free, but the transporting of it here will be around $400. On this tank will be a bronze plaque on which the names of all boys who died in service during the last world wars and Korea will be engraved.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Calhoun of Blue Ridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thacker at Celeste Sunday. They were in Wolf City visiting Mr. and Mrs. Phil Heron accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thacker and family.

Accessories should accent or compliment a costume — not call or hold attention to themselves.

Choose them to add spice to a simple solid color dress or suit, or to supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.

Plan your accessories carefully before you buy — remembering the color and design of your basic dresses or suits. Avoid bargains with which you have nothing to wear.

Avoid too many different colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times — generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bag and gloves or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Dont't overdo it. The more brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area it should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in make-up. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

COTTON ROOT ROT CONTROL HINTS OFFERED.

Losses from cotton root rot can be reduced if a planned program involving a combination of practices is carried out on infected soils, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist. Currently, the plant diagnostic lab is receiving specimens of cotton plants infected with root rot from every section of the state except Northwest producing areas. Losses in some fields is said to approxiate 90 percent.

The fungus causing the disease is a tough customer to control but Smith offers three suggested practices which have proved effective in holding losses from the disease to a minimum. The fungus may be killed by drying out the infected soil. The land should be plowed to a depth of 6 to 8 or more inches in the summer or early fall. Smith points out that the fungus has been found as deep in the soil as cotton roots go and that plowing to this depth is recommended for some areas. The important thing is to turn the soil and expose the fungus to the hot sun and drying. Replowing at regular intervals during the summer and early fall is recommended.

A second practice, starving the fungus by reducing its host plants of food supply, has also proved effective. Smith suggests planting sorghum, corn, oats, wheat, barley or grasses for 1 to 4 years before cotton. The severity of the infestation should determine the number of years the nonsusceptible crops should be grown. Too, summer fallow and deep tillage should be practiced on idle land to control weeds susceptible to the fungus.

Thirdly, Smith says plowing into the soil large amounts of organic matter will aid the growth of beneficial micro-organisms in the root zone and apparently these organisms prevent the fungus from spreading. The growing of a cool-season adapted legume as a green-manure crop or the addition to the soil of cotton burs prior to planting cotton has proved successful in many areas of the state.

Proper harvesting and handling of seed cotton can add from $2.50 to $10 a bale to the income from this year's cotton crop, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist. Farmers and ranchmen are reminded by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, that September 30 is the last day for submitting claims for a refund of the Federal tax on gasoline used for farming purposes since July 1, 1956.

High production, long period of lay, low death loss and good feed efficiency are the "bread and butter" of the present-day egg producer. The modern hen is bred to lay at a high rate, but skillful management must be practiced if maximum profits are to be gained say extension poultry husbandmen.

The tempo of the harvest season is picking up and that means farmers and their families will be exposed to more accident hazards. Farm accident rates will climb warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council unless safety rules are observed especially those dealing with traffic.

Second Lieut. and Mrs. Don Cooper have arrived at Fort Eustis, near Williamsburg, Va., where he is stationed with the Army. Enroute to Fort Eustis, they enjoyed a three day vacation in New York City. Mrs. Cooper is the former Miss Shirley Reddell, daughter of Mrs. Clara Reddell of this city. The couple have been residing in Lubbock the past summer.

SEWING MACHINE CONTEST WINNER

MRS. V. C. NORRIS

Mrs. V. C. Norris is one of the most fortunate women in town for she is the winner of the "World Famous" Adler sewing machine which was given away by the Ball Sewing Center, 217 East Louisiana Street, in August.

Ball Sewing Center also features all models including the Ball-o-matic which, through many years of hard work and research, has produced one of the finest machines and at a price anyone can afford. It produces decorative stitches which are as easy as "winding a bobbin," makes button the Good Housekeeper Machine, holes, sews buttons on, and many other useful stitches.

The public is invited to visit Ball's Sewing Center and see the large selection of machines on display. Congratulations are also offered Mrs. Norris upon the beautiful and practical gift which she has received.

Whether Selling Oil Leases or Cows, He's An Entertainer

Frank X. Tolbert's column in the Dallas News recently carried an article about Col. George Apple of McKinney, reported reputed to be one of the Southwest's outstanding auctioneers. Under the caption "That Apple Chant Slows For Oil," the article stated:

During the last 12 years Colonel George Apple has auctioned off almost $100,000,000 worth of University of Texas oil leases. He has done this in about 75 hours of work. At an auction a couple of years ago, he sold $16,683,000 worth of leases in about three hours.

Late in October, in the ballroom of an Austin hotel, he will continue this almost incredible auctioneer's saga when he takes leasing bids on from 150 to 200 tracts of university lands. The colonel (like most auctioneers, he earned his title in the bidding ring and not in the Army) admits that he doesn't chant as rapidly at the oil lease sales as he does when he's selling livestock.

The lease bidders sit in about the same spots at each auction. They indicate bids in various ways as Colonel Apple unleashes his flood-tide of mumbo-jumbo. For example, the representative of one major oil company continues to look at Apple as long as he's in the muti-million dollar bidding. When the landman is through, he simply turns his face away.

Apple's real specialty during his 37 years as an auctioneer has been selling cows. More than half a million head have been sold under his hammer. Although he got only as far as the eighth grade in school, George Apple is a college man. He went to the Missouri Auctioneers College at Kansas City back in 1923. And the colonel might be called the auctioneers' auctioner. So persuasive is he that he often gets bursts of applause at the end of an auctioneering performance somewhat like that given the conductor of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra after a well-received number.

Apple also sprinkles humorous comments in his normal voice within the turkey gobble chant, like this: "Hand fawdy and quady add, haud fawdy and quady add—that cow is worth this much, folks, just to tie on your front yard so people will know that someone's at home—haud fawdy and gifty add, hive gundrad, griddy hive gundred and quady add. . ."

Mrs. Linus M. Smith, Mrs. Felix Smith and Miss Marie Smith were guests Monuday of Mr. and Mrs. John Kimbriel at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Kirbriel are attending the Produce Grocery Convention there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Driggers of Route 4, McKinney were weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Calhoun in Blue Ridge.

Specialist Advises Harvest Cotton For Top Profits

Proper harvesting and handling of seed cotton can add from $2.50 to $19 a bale to the income from this year's cotton crop, says Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist. Careless methods of harvesting and handling on the other hand can cause great damage to lint quality and lower its value.

Here are his suggestions for maintaining the inherent qualities of the crop. Do not harvest cotton when it is wet. Wait until 9 or 9:30 to start harvesting operations regardless of whether hand or machines are used. Cotton harvesting machines should not be operated at night when dew is present.

Machines should be kept clean and in good repair and serviced at the end of each day in accordance with the operator's manual. It must be remembered that the most elaborate gin cannot be expected to remove grass from lint cotton. Elliott advises defoliating when necessary. It will check or prevent boll rot and aid in preventing green leaf stain which lowers quality.

If a stripper is to be used, the specialist advises waiting from 7 to 14 days after penta or other dessicants are applied before starting the stripping operation. A green boll box should be used on the front of a wire-sided or slat-sided trailer and bolls caught, if infested with boll weevils or pink bollworms, should be burned. The stripper should be equipped with a blower under the elevator and cotton should not be tramped in the trailer.

Elliott says cooperation with the ginner in grouping cotton on the gin yard according to method of harvesting, moisture and trash content can add dollars to price of a bale of cotton.

Mechanical harvesting of cotton, points out Elliott, means much more than putting machines into the field. It includes all aspects of production including plant breeding, field arrangement, soil care, crop residue disposal, seedbed preparation, planting, fertilization, weed, insect and disease control, harvesting and improved ginning.

Station Wagon, Car In Collision

Isaac Crouch of McKinney, driving a sedan, and Andrew J. DeWeese of Garland, escaped injuries when their cars were in collision Thursday morning at the intersection of Highway 75 and Watt Street. DeWeese was driving a station wagon. The damage to both vehicles was estimated at $625.

Otis Baskin, who underwent surgery this week in the City-County Hospital, is reported to be doing as well as could be expected. His host of friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Time To Sign '58 Wheat Acreage Soil Bank Agreements

Winter wheat farmers now have another opoprtunity to take part in the Acreage Reserve Program of the Soil Bank advises C. R. Hillis, Chairman of the Collin County ASC Committee.

All producers with an "old farm" wheat acreage allotment for 1958 who usually grow winter wheat have until October 4, 1957 to sign a Reserve Agreement with their county ASC committee.

By taking part in the Wheat Acreage Reserve farmers will:

1. Earn special payments to offset loss of net profits from the land which is held out of production under the program.

2. Have a guaranteed income for the acreage in the Reserve, even though drought, flood, or other natural disaster hits during the year.

3. Join with other wheat producers in a cooperative effort to reduce the burdensome surpluses which depress the market.

The Acreage Reserve is an "annual" program. Payments are earned by taking out of production, for one year, a specific number of acres from the farm wheat acreage allotment.

The Acreage Reserve is a voluntary program. Each farmer will decide whether to participate. Producers who do take part will sign an agreement with their county ASC committee designating the tract or tracts of land on their farm to be put under the program. Land for the Acreage Reserve must be land that would be suitable for producing wheat in 1958.

A Soil Bank Farm Base will be established for each farm taking part in the 1958 Acreage Reserve program. This base is the average of the amount of land from which Soil Bank base crops were harvested on the farm in the two years, 1956 and 1957. Soil Bank base crops include wheat; corn; cotton; all grains harvested for grain, hay or ensilage; field and canning peas and beans; oilseed crops harvested for seed, hay or ensilage; sudan; millet annual rye grass and similar grasses if harvested for seed; all vegetables, berries, melons and cantaloups. The farm garden for home use is not counted as a part of the Bank Base.

In Acreage Reserve agreements, participating farmers agree to limit their harvested crops to their farm "Soil Bank Base," minus the amount of land in the Acreage Reserve and the Conservation Reserve. The acreage for harvest is called the "permitted acreage."

The wheat acreage which can be put into the reserve is limited to the farm wheat allotment. The law now places a limitation of $3,000.00 on individuals per farm unit.

Wheat producers with acreage allotments who are interested are requested to call at the county office, 123 S. Tenn. St., McKinney, Texas where you will be assisted in the signing of an agreement.

October 4, 1957 is the FINAL day to sign an agreement for the 1958 Wheat Acreage Reserve.

Charley McTee And Wife Return From Trip On West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Charley McTee returned home recently from a most enjoyable vacation. They visited Mr. McTee's cousin in Auburn, Calif., who is 103 years old. He is a former Texan, having ridden a horse from Kentucky to this state in 1874. He knew Jesse and Frank James and is brother of Charley McTee's grandfather.

From California they went to Seaside, Oregon to visit their daughter, and family, Capt. L. G. Hitz, wife and children. Capt. Hitz was commander of a Radar Base in Beaver Lodge, in Alberta, Canada for two years, where he was on duty with the U.S. Air Force, and had just recently returned. He is now assigned to McChord AF Base at Tacoma, Wash., where he will be flying 104-F2 Jet airplanes. He has been in the service for 18 years and is 38 years of age. Mrs. Hitz will be remembered as the former Miss Reba McTee of this city.

Mr. McTee reports his aged cousin, left Texas for Tacoma, Wash., in 1888 where he homesteaded a half section of land. He is quite active for his age, and two years ago killed a deer. He still enjoys hunting and fishing.

The McTees, while on their recent vacation traveled through 12 states. Mr. McTee enjoyed deep sea fishing at Seaside, Ore., and on the Columbia river, where he had the Salmon which he caught, canned, to bring home. The largest fish he managed to hook was a 37-pound salmon. He brought back three cases of No. 1 Salmon with him.

Miss Kate Tom Staples has returned to TCU, Fort Worth where she is a senior. She has been at her home the past few days recovering from an attack of Asiatic flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Noles of Anna, have been at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. J. H. Noles at Pilot Point, who is now improving.

Acuff Grocery At Murphy Is Burglarized

Deputies Jim Standerfer and Robert Ramsey were called to Murphy Thursday morning to investigate burglary of the Acuff Grocery.

Other activities of the Sheriff's Department included arrest of two men at Wylie who were jailed on charges of drunkenness, and the arrest of a local man on an old fine.

Deputies Vaughn and Day were called to the underpass on Highway 75, South, Wednesday night to help direct traffic. A large truck was caught, and sometime was spent before it could be cleared.

Reports from the City Police Department show the arrest of one drunk, and a fire on Main Street at noon Wednesday. A bale of cotton, stored in a warehouse, was burned. It was reported to be the only damage.

Miniature Fair Scene Displated At Dooley Flower Shop

Fair visitors here this week, traveling along Highway 24, West, across from the new County Hospital, will be attracted to a show window which depicts a typical fair scene. The minature display is in the show window of the Dooley Flower shop and is the handwork of Jim Dooley, owner.

Entrance to the wee scene bids welcome with the lettering "Collin County Fair" across the arch, atop of which is perched a tiny blue bird. The exhibit tent, with colorful banners waving in the breeze, is directly in front of the beacon tower and further attention is drawn to the carnival grounds where the Merry-go-round and Ferris Wheel are in operation.

Suggestive of the livestock department are the stray animals, scattered about and the ripened corn represents the fine agricultural products of Collin County.

Mr. Dooley extends a welcome to all to visit the store and see this clever exhibit.

J. A. Bogard Returns From Six Weeks Trip To New England

J. A. Bogard returned to his home in this city this week from a most enjoyable six weeks trip to the New England states. He visited his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Schaeffer and family in New London, Conn., but his trip also included sight-seeing visits in New York City, Boston, Mass., Washington, D.C., and other Eastern cities.

Mr. Bogard's vacation, which was planned by Mrs. W. H. McHone, local Greyhound Bus agent, carried him on a route through the Central states to New London, while his return trip was through the Southern Stattes.

McKinney Plumber Turns Artist At Age Of 62

A 64-year-old McKinney man has discovered his "hidden talent" within the last two years, and to prove it was exhibiting several oil paintings here recently. T. A. Bass, native of Collin County has discovered he can draw and paint and is spending much of his spare time enjoying that hobby. He has never had a lesson in his life, other than drawing lesson when he was a school boy.

Two years ago Mr. Bass received a paint set as a Christmas gift. Two pictures were inclosed in the kit, with numbers as a guide for the colors to be used. He was so well-pleased with the finished work that he decided to draw his own outlines and paint them himself. He copies pictures from magazines, calendars, or any other sources, much of which are landscapes. His canvasses reveal beautiful views of Mt. Vernon, New Mexico Mountain scene; Salty Sea Lake in Southern California; Cascade Mountains of Washington; the Old Red Mill in Ohio; Wind-swept Rock in Utah; and a scene from the Big Bend country in Southwest Texas along the Rio Grande.

Mr. Bass has resided in McKinney for the past 32 years, but prior to that was born and reared in the Old Milligan School house community, a few miles East of here. He has been engaged in plumbing for several years, but now that he finds himself to be an artist, is looking forward to the time when he can spend all of his time, just painting.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Frisby at Cottage Hill Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Gardell Chandler and Terrye, of Lucas; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Minshew and Neil, of Denton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry White of Dallas. A picnic supper was enjoyed at the lake.

McKinney Lions Tie Birdville In Penalized Game Friday Night

By NORMAN SCOTT

The McKinney High Lions and the Birdville High Buffaloes fought to a 7-7 deadlock in a bitterly contested tilt Friday night before a capacity crowd at Newsome Stadium in a non-conference affair.

The hard-charging Buffaloes of District 5-AAA, trailed 7-0 at halftime, took the second-half kick-off and moved 80 yards in 14 plays that consumed 5:26 of the third quarter for their six-pointer with halfback Dennie Dearing plunging and spinning for the final four yards on fourth down. Halfback Lonnie Wilderspin booted the extra point that enabled the Buffs to tie the favored Lions. The sustained drive featured the running of Dearing and Wilderspin and a falling catch of a deflected pass by Wilderspin, good for 29 yards to the McKinney 13.

The Lions scored late in the second quarter after missing a first down by inches on the Birdville five in the latter stages of the initial stanba. Linebacker Bob Byrd set up the Lion's touchdown drive when he intercepted a Buff aerial on the McKinney 40 and returned it to the Birdville 47. Coach Joe Simpson of the Lions sent in his second unit at this point and quarterback Jerry Kruse engineered an 8-play pay-off march featured by a 24-yard run by halfback Kenneth Locke on the first play from the 47. Locke turned in some good foot work on the run as he found a hole inside his own right end and then cut back to the west sidelines before being overhauled on the Buff 23. Fullback Robert Gracy picked up 4 before the Lions were penalized 5. Kruse then pitched back to Locke who connected with halfback Tommy Joe Crutcher for a 7-yard pass gainer. Locke and Crutcher alternated in moving to the Birdville 1 and Locke carried over with 1:54 remaining in the half. End Don Wharton converted.

The Buffaloes threatened again shortly after their 80-yard drive in the third when they gained possession on the Lions 24. McEntire was back to punt from the 39 but dropped the snap-back and was forced to run, being dropped for a 15-yard loss on the 24. The Lions tightened up on the Buffs and with fourth and eleven on the 25, Wharton spilled Casey for a 5-yard loss on the McKinney 30 to allow the Lions to take over.

The Lions retaliated and seemed headed for a touchdown but Birdville recovered a Lion miscue on the Buffs 13. McEntire, C. W. Williams and Byrd had moved for two quick first downs into the Buff 45 before quarterback Robert Joplin fired a 34-yard pass completion to end Jerry Miller that carried to the 11 on the last play of the third quarter. On the first play of the third quarter. On the first play from the Buff 11, Byrd attempted to go around the left side but was hit hard by three Buffaloes and fumbled with the Birdville crew taking over on the 13.

Both elevens were in scoring distance again in the fourth as a result of each recovering fumbles. Birdville snared another Lion bobble on the local' 49 and penetrated to the 15 aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the Lions. The Lions again braced and took over on their 15. A 18-yard scamper by Byrd and a 4-yarder by Kruse was snuffed out by penalties again, an off-side infraction and another 15-yarder. The Lions were forced to punt with Locke getting off a 40-yard boot that the Buffs fumbled away to the Lions on the Birdville 39. Crutcher and Locke moved to the 36 and Kruse connected with end Clifford Dickerson on a jump pass good for 10 and a first on the Buff 26. Another McKinney fumble stymied their final threat as Locke was hit hard by three Buffs and fumbled on the 18 with the alert defenders tak? ing over again.

The Lions gained possession again on the Birdville 43 with 46 seconds left in the game but a desperation passing attack was in vain.

McKinney came out on top, statistic-wise, but the officials slapped 15 penalties on them, six 15-yarders, and nine 5-step infractions, for a total of 135, which no doubt, had a lot to do in the final outcome, plus their four costly fumbles, and a hard-hitting Birdville crew. The Buffs were penalized for only 67 yards all night.

The Lions chalked up 13 first downs on 189 rushing and 51 passing, while the Buffs showed 11 firsts on 156 via the ground route, and 29 in the air.

No doubt, the Lions saw red for the remainder of the night after the game because the officials were throwing red flags in their faces all night long and they couldn't make too much head-way with the red flags blocking their path.

Despite all the red flags on the field, it was a "real rock-and-sock 'em" football game.

McKinney will journey to Arlington next Friday night to meet the Colts in a non-conference tilt.

Lion-Birdville Tie Penalized By 202 Yards

By NORMAN SCOTT

In District 6-AAA action last week, McKinney and Birville deadlocked, 7-7; Gainesville defeated Denton, 21-13; Mt. Pleasant downed Atlanta, 28-6; Greenville lost to Arlington 14-20; Weatherford outscored Paris, 26-13; and Ft. Worth Handley beat Sulphur Springs, 20-7.

In the McKinney-Birdville tie 202 yards in penalties were stepped off by the officials, 135 against the Lions and 67 against the Buffaloes. The Lions received six 15-yard and nine 5-yard penalties, and the red flags curtailed their offensive output considerably. The Lions scored late in the second period when sophomore fullback Robert Gracy plunged over the double-stripe to climax a 47 yard drive. End Don Wharton added the conversion to give the McKinney eleven a 7-0 half-time lead but the Buffaloes, after receiving the second half kick-off, moved 80 yards in a 15-play offensive for a touchdown and tacked on the extra point to gain a tie with the favored Lions.

Fullback Charles Doaz, and halfbacks Dick Davenport and Bill Nichols accounted for Gainesville's touchdowns in their win over Denton with Nichols also kicking all three extra points.

Thomas Hockaday and Dickie Garrison scored two touchdowns each and Jackie Morris covered after each Tiger score in Mt. Pleasant's victory over Atlanta.

In the Greenville-Arlington tilt, Don Finch and James Basinger chalked up six-pointers for the Lions and Felno Monk added both points after. The score was knotted 14-all at half-time but Bobby Mebus, the Colts' fleet-footed halfback, raced 63 yards for the deciding touchdown midway in the third period.

Paris went to the air often against Weatherford but couldn't match the Kangaroos strong ground game. Both of the Wildcats' touchdowns were scored on passes from quarterback Scott Odom to ends Hugh Armstrong and Vic Mitchell. Fullback Eason led the Kangaroo's attack on the Wildcats.

A 91-yard scamper by Jim Kemsey featured Ft. Worth Handley's victory over Sulphur Springs. The Wilrcats only score came in the fourth period when Harlon Harred crossed the goal line at the end of a 58-yard march.

Nichols' nine points against Denton vaulted the Leopard halfback into the scoring lead with a total of 16.

Last week's results left the district eleven with 4 wins, 5 losses, and 2-ties after two week's of action.

Chamber of Commerce . . . CORNER

By PAT SIMPSON, Manager

Your Chamber of Commerce directors held the regular monthly meeting September 17. Of course it is an honor to be a director of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce because these directors are elected by the total membership. We sometime lose sight of the unselfish service rendered by this group and other volunteer organizations. Such people take time away from their jobs and places of business for no other reason than to make McKinney a better place for you and me to live, work, and play.

We have heard it said many times in our life that people are given such places of honor and responsibility because of wealth, influence, or some inside pull. We have been present when many nominations for such places have been made and the only discussions of an individual we have ever heard were: "Will he work? Can we depend on him? Is he interested in the work of this organization, or does he care about the welfare of his fellowmen?"

A group of merchants with the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association met recently to map out a Christmas Program. You will be hearing of the definite plans soon. It takes a lot of planning behind the scenes to arrange programs of this kind. First, there is always the question of who pays the bill, and it does cost to have lights, decorations, parades, prizes, candy for the kiddos, large and small, and etc. Then, everyone wants the decorations placed on their streets and we don't all live on the same streets. The central thought of this planning group was that Christmas is a time of hope, cheer, and giving of gifts for the sheer joy of giving, in celebration of the birth of Jesus who taught us a way of life of love, happiness and freedom. We know Dwayne Howell, chairman of this committee, will have a good program.

We attended a meeting in Commerce, Texas, last week with chamber of commerce representatives from several other towns. Observations: some of their problems which we don't have seemed very amusing to us— and the representatives from other towns didn't appear to be very interested in our problems.

We would recommend you to drive by Dooley's Flower Shop on Highway 24, across from the new County Hospital, and see the Fair scene in the window. This is a very nice display and very fitting for Fair Week in Collin County.

Marine Air Reserve Recruiter Will Be Here Tuesdays

Tech. Sergeant John A. Hall, representative of the Marine Air Reserve, located at Naval Air Station, Dallas, announces that if you are between the ages of 17 and 21, you can now enlist in the Marine Air Reserve for only six months of active duty and then spend the remainder of your military obligation right here at home. Young men planning to attend college will not have college years interupted by the military draft, as they are required to spend only one weekend per month on military duty, according to Sgt. Hall.

If further interested Sgt. Hall may be contacted each Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the McKinney Post Office where he will be stationed, or contact may be made by visiting the Marine Air Reserve Training Command at the Naval Air Station in Dallas.

Planned Program Can Reduce Cotton Root Rot Losses

Losses from cotton root rot can be reduced if a planned program involving a combination of practices is carried out on infected soils, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist. Currently, Smith says, the plant diagnostic lab is receiving specimens of cotton plants infected with root rot from every section of the state except Northwest producing areas. Losses in some fields is said to approximate 90 percent.

The fungus causing the disease is a tough customer to control but Smith offers three suggested practices which have proved effective in holding losses from the disease to a minimum. The fungus may be killed by drying out the infected soil. The land should be plowed to a depth of 6 to8 or more inches in the summer or early fall. Smith points out that the fungus has been found as deep in the soil as cotton roots go and that plowing to this depth is recommended for some areas. The important thing is to turn the soil and expose the fungus to the hot sun and drying. Replowing at regular intervals during the summer and early fall is recommended.

A second practice, starving the fungus by reducing its host plants or food supply, has also proved effective. Smith suggests planting sorghum, corn, oats, wheat, barley or grasses for 1 to 4 years before cotton. The severity of the infestation should determine the number of years the nonsusceptible crops should be grown. Too, summer fallow and deep tillage should be practiced on idle land to control weeds susceptible to the fungus.

Thirdly, Smith says plowing into the soil large amounts of organic matter will aid the growth of beneficial micro-organisms in the root zone and apparently these organisms prevent the fungus from spreading. The growing of a cool-season adapted legume as a green-manure crop or the addition to the soil of cotton burs prior to planting cotton has proved successful in many areas of the state.

Finally, Smith says local control measures vary with areas of the state and he urges farmers to contact their local county agent for the best practices for the area.

Crimemobile To Be Exhibited At County Fair

One of the features of this year's Collin County Fair, will be an exhibit of the Crimemoblie, a scientific crime detection exhibit. It was originated and presented by the Texas Lew Enforcement Foundation, "Dedicated to enlisting the aid of good citizens in support of good law enforcement."

The Crimemobile was conceived as a graphic means of portraying modern law enforcement. This scientific crime detection exhibit is equipped with more than a dozen examples of modern-day apparatus and devices used by officers in solving crimes and apprehending criminals.

The exhibit, housed in a 49-foot truck trailer, serves as a rolling classroom to impress Texas citizens — particularly young ones—in every corner of the state with the efficiency and ingenuity of modern police techniques. It travels 100,-000 miles each year, moving from one community to another by invitation of school officials, youth workers, civic clubs, or local law enforcement officers.

The Crimemobile strips away the false glamour of the criminal. It gives the public a view of the coldly efficient machinery used in modern law enforcement. Graphic illustrations also help instill a new respect for the efforts of our peace officers in their protection of our lives and property. An average of 32,000 Texans view this extremely popular exhibit each month.

A specially-trained representative of the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation travels with the Crimemobile to coordinate its showings and answer questions.

The Crimemobile is a free exhibit. There is never an admission charge and no funds are collected with its showings.

Traffic Officer Guest Speaker At Lions Club

"You and Your Traffic Problems" was the title of a most enlightening and helpful address heard by members of the Lions Club and their guests at this week's luncheon meeting.

President Leroy Richardson called the club to order, with Judge A. M. Wolford giving the invocation. Following songs and a delighiful luncheon, a new tailtwister, Odell Bilderback was introduced. He was appointed to finish the unexpired term of Jeff Wharton, who recently resigned.

The meeting was turned to the program committee—Chief Jack Pike and M. A. Prater, the former introducing the guest speaker, W. C. Rowden, safety officer with the Texas Highway Patrol.

Prefacing his remarks with bits of humor, Mr. Rowden delved into the traffic problems of our county, their affect and some things to do about them. He gave statistics on traffic fatalities of the country within the past two years, quoting the appalling number of persons killed or injured and amount of property damage. At this point he reminded his hearers that regarding the $5 billion dollar proprety damage last year from highway accidents "whether you had an accident or not, you helped pay for it."

Bringing his statistics closer to home, Officer Rowden reported that last year in Texas there were twice as many persons killed in traffic accidents as there were murders and suicides, and the property damage was ten times above that was solen.

Emphasis was placed upon regulated living, to avert the atrocities of this slaughter upon our highways, by doing those things which are right, rather than what "you believe to be right." "No one has the right to endanger the life of anyone," he stated and elaborated upon the violation of speed law, drinking and driving. Of 2,350 people who died last year from traffic wrecks, 90 percent of the causes were from speeding, and drinking drivers. "We must realize there is no right way to do wrong," the speaker stated as he explained the obligation of people to their fellowman:

In his plea for caution, he added the position of the police is enforcing our traffic laws, and explained radar which is now used throughout the state. It will be remembered that Officer Rowden demonstrated the use of Radar in this county some two years ago, to apprehend speeders and slow down wreckless drivers. Since put into operation it has proven quite successful.

In closing his fine address, the officer assured his hearers, "we work for you and we would like to be able to work with you to protect the lives of you and your family."

Mr. Rowden, a member of the Texas Highway Patrol for 16 years, has recently been selected as personnel and safety officer for the Texas Delivery Service in Dallas.

Other guests for the day were
